Remark	A manuscript copy of a cantata by Pierre-Césaire Abeille (1674-1733) entitled 'Actéon, Cantata burlesque', for alto voice, one violin or oboe and figured bass, is in Paris, Bibl. Nat., Vm7 4761. This may be the cantata published by Roger, but Abeille's authorship is conjectural at best. The manuscript has one violin part, the edition apparently had two.

Remarks The volume was probably composed by the publisher from circulating manuscripts. A 'true' Opus 2 was brought out by the composer as Sonate a violino e basso ... Opera seconda (Bologna: author, 1721; RISM A 673), later reprinted by Walsh as XII Solos for a violin with a thorough bass for the harpsicord or violin ... Opera terza (RISM A 674-675). See Talbot 1976, p. 5.

Edition XII Sonate a tre: Sonate X-XII, In Partitur gesetzt und realisiert, mit Phrasierungs-, Dynamikbezeichnungen und Kadenzen versehen von Silvia Kind (Bogenstrichbezeichnungen von Prof. Robert Reitz) (Vienna: Universal, no. 11896, 1949 = Continuo – Sammlung Alter Spielmusik).

Remarks The author's name Giovanni Henrico (Henrici) Albicastro is a pseudonym for Johann Heinrich (von) Weissenburg (Southern Gemrany? c. 1660? – 1730, place of death unknown), who came to Holland around 1690, enrolled in Leiden as student in 1691, and became an officer in the Dutch State Army later on, captain on horse in 1708.
Roger's edition of Albicastro's Opus 4 is partly a reprint of six sonatas published in Bruges in 1696 as Opus 3 Parte 1. See above: Giardino armonico. This means that Roger's Sonatas Opus 1-3 might also have been published before, in Bruges. The Sonatas Opus 5 were certainly published before 1700, since they conclude with a Folia, in imitation of Corelli's Opus 5, published in 1700.
The dedicatee of Opus 1 is Coenraad Ruysch (Leiden 1650-1731), from an important Leiden family and himself a member of the City Council from 1679. He served various terms as burgomaster and obtained many position in the City of Leiden, the Province of Holland and the Dutch Republic as a whole.

Remarks

Moser (1923) mentioned 33 sonatas for Opus 2, 3 and 5, which makes indeed fifteen sonatas for Opus 2.

The dedicatee is Cornelis Sasbout van der Dussen (Delft 1671-1707 The Hague), from a Delft aristocratic family. He enrolled as student in Leiden on 4 December 1692, where Albicastro was a fellow student and university music master.

The partbooks of the unique extant copy in Paris have the signature of its probably first possessor on the folders that cover each partbook, with the inscription ‘Albicastro | opera terza violine [violone, organo] | Alphen.’ The same signature is found immediately above Weissenburg’s (Albicastro’s) signature in the oath book of the State Army (The Hague, Nat. Arch., Inv. 1.01.19 (Council of State), nr. 1929, fol. 24v), where Johan van Alphen signed in procuration for Dirk Boldewijn Moulart, coronel-commander of the regiment of Brigadier St. Amant)

Remarks

Three part versions of the so-called 'Balletti a cinque', ascribed (and probably correctly so) to Albinoni in a manuscript in Vienna, Oest. Nat. Bibl. Manuscript copies in Oxford, Christ Church Libr. (Ms. Mus 3), and Durham, Cath. Libr. (MS M193/1 and 2-7, score and parts) attribute the pieces to Ziani, as does their partial publication by Walsh in 1702. The Roger and Walsh editions seem to be independent from one another. See Talbot 1990, pp. 79-80.

Remarks This edition is one of the very few example that Roger published an edition with a false imprint: Utrecht: Klaas Klaase Knol. This was done certainly to escape Anders's privilege for Holland and West-Friesland. The edition is, in every respect, like an ordinary Roger edition of the period.

Hendrik Anders protested against Roger's reprint in a declaration before notary public Michiel Bockx op 23 March 1699 (Asd-GA, NAA 4445; Jansen 1965, p. 45, Van Eeghen IV, 1967, p. 71). Roger was summoned before the bar. A sentence is not known. Roger's reprint remained, however, in his catalogue.
